Pauline Authorship: Author For The Book Of Hebrews: The External, Internal and Eternal Evidence By Rev. Joseph L. Wells Jr.

This book will prove that Pauline authorship for Hebrews has always been what the mainstream Church has believed and show how deception has played a role in trying to debunk this well documented truth. These pages are packed with abundance of evidence that Paul is clearly the author of Hebrews and powerfully demonstrates this evidence by going all the way back to the early Church age and following her as she marches forward through time (dark ages, reformation) and finally to the present day of the Church. As noted above, this book lays out the various motives as to why there have been those who have tried to suppress this evidence and deny that Paul is the author of Hebrews. If all this book did was prove who was the author of Hebrews then I would have never taken the time to write this book. What is important, is writing a book that shows why there are those who try to suppress the evidence that Paul wrote Hebrews. This book will do just that and more. This book has more evidence that supports Pauline authorship than any book that I have found. The serious reader and Bible student will not be let down with all the various pieces of evidence that has been accumulated and put together in one location. And then, this book will enlighten you as you begin to see why there are those who try to suppress this clear evidence with nothing but hot air and no hard evidence whatsoever at all. This book is a clear eye opener for any Christian that wants to know the truth about Pauline authorship and why there are those who fight against it so rigorously with such flimsily arguments and no evidence.
