From the Author

We believe in a new paradigm of education that is very different from the factory model still practiced so widely across the world. Today, there is a great sense of urgency among many important education constituents such as parents and state governments to change what has not worked before. We encourage the adoption of policies that put into practice what the No Child Left Behind law in the United States supports only in theory -- that education must work for ALL children and not only a privileged few. This philosophy of serving all children and all learners regardless of age or station in life underlies our work and the ideas contained in this book.
