The Chimera's Curse (Companions Quartet Book 4) By Julia Golding

Connie Lionheart is the only Universal Companion, able to communicate with all of the mythical creatures hidden in our world. She's the most important member of the secret society sworn to protect the bonds between humans and creatures. But the shape-shifter Kullervo wants to use her power to wipe out humanity. Connie must stop him, but how? There are no simple answers in the exciting conclusion to this award-winning eco-fantasy series by a Nestlé Prize-winning author.

"Come to the mark. Come to me. You know you must. Connie surfaced from sleep, struggling like a swimmer caught in weeds, thrashing to reach air. When she woke, she found the bedclothes twisted around her. She threw them off and sat up to gulp some water from the glass on her bedside table, her handshaking slightly. The voice had crept into her dreams again: the voice of Kullervo, the shape-shifter, her enemy—and her companion creature. He said the same thing each time, repeating the message again and again so that she could hear its echo during the daylight hours as well as in the stillness of the night. She knew where he wanted her to go: he wanted her to meet him at the mark he had made deep in her mind, the breach in the wall between her and his dark presence. But she would not give in to him."

Editorial Review

Review

This installment is the most action-packed of the series, and Connie's fans will be on the edge of their seats from page one. --VOYA, December 2008

This series is unique in the way it sketches broad dangers--vast population and the end of humankind and both real and mythical animals (who are real here)--in a tranquil style of prose that's unlikely to frighten readers but is helpful for seeing environmental analogies. ... Intelligent. --Kirkus Reviews, October 2008

‘This book is the most excellent book I have ever read.’ Amazon review

‘If you are looking for a book for a child of junior age or above (or their Mum or Dad!) who enjoys fantasy fiction, then this would definitely be a great choice.’ Amazon review

‘This has all the ingredients of a must-read series.’ Publishing News

‘I really like it - it reminded me of Susan Cooper's Over Sea Under Stone.’ Amanda Craig

‘Crackles with tension.’ TES

‘[Of previous books in the quartet:] I rated this book 5/5 because the story is so brilliant you simply have to read it. I would strongly advise this book so just buy it and read it!!!!!!’ --Jenii, Age 10

About the Author

Julia Golding's debut novel, The Diamond of Drury Lane, won the Nestlé Children's Book Prize and the Ottakar's Children's Book Prize in the U.K. She lives in Oxford, England. While working as a diplomat in Poland, Julia Golding traveled high and low, from the Tatra Mountains to the bottom of a Silesian coal mine. She later joined Oxfam as a lobbyist on conflict issues, campaigning at the United Nations and with governments to lessen the impact of war on civilians living in war zones.
